

LINCS Resource Collection

The LINCS Resource Collection provides online access to high-quality, evidence-based resources in 16 topic areas critical to the adult education field. These materials enable educators to design and deliver high-quality learning opportunities for adults so they can successfully transition to postsecondary education and 21st century jobs.

How Can the Resource Collection Benefit Me?

The LINCS Resource Collection is comprised of multimedia materials that have undergone a rigorous vetting process. Materials include research articles, policy briefs, tool kits, websites, instructional resources, and more. Resource profiles on LINCS feature expert reviews, suggested uses, and more.

Topic areas include:

- Adult English Language Learners
- Assessment
- Career Pathways
- College and Career Standards
- Correctional Education
- Disabilities in Adult Education
- Diversity and Literacy
- Evidence-based Professional Development
- Financial Literacy
- Health Literacy
- Math and Numeracy
- Postsecondary Completion
- Program Management
- Reading and Writing
- Science
- Technology and Learning

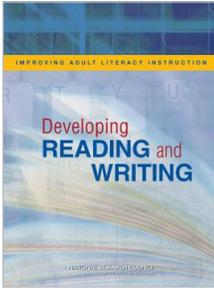

The screenshot displays the LINCS website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for Professional Development, Community, News & Events, About, and Search. Below this is the LINCS logo and the tagline 'Literacy Information and Communication System'. The main content area is divided into three columns: 'Learn LINCS Learning Portal' with an 'Enroll Now' button, 'Participate LINCS Community' with 'Join the Community' and 'Learn More' buttons, and 'Find LINCS Resources Collection' with a search bar and 'Find Resources' button. Below these are sections for 'Welcome to LINCS', 'Announcements' (listing recent updates like 'Infographic: Improving Skills of Young Adults' and 'ED Launches Career Pathways Exchange!'), 'Information For Students', and 'What's New' (listing various guides and handbooks).
